

October 11, 2009 Open Road Race

I _____ hereby waive, release and discharge for myself, my heirs, executors, or any other legal successors, any and all rights and claims which I have or may have hereafter occur to me against the sponsors of the event and the promoters and any property owners through which the event may be held for any and all damages which may be sustained by me directly or indirectly in connection with the event, including collision with other participants, pedestrians, vehicles, fixed or moving objects, the dangers arising from surface hazards, equipment failure and weather conditions. I understand that this is taking place on open roads and that the presence of a police escort does not diminish my responsibility to act in a safe manner and that any injury caused by or to me is solely my fault and responsibility.
